

BLESS STORIES: EAT

YOUR “EAT” STORY NEXT?

EMAIL mguersch@valleycommunity.cc

An unusual kind of “Eat” – Tim struck up a conversation about faith with a night manager at a local restaurant he frequents!

Mike ate lunch with a friend who is stuck at home recovering from a serious injury.

Blaire ate with an acquaintance who is filled with bitterness; she was able to have a conversation about the one who can give hope.

Brandon shared fresh apple dumplings with neighbors and friends of relatives.

Patsy took a meal to the mother of a church attendee and shared it with her; the mom had suffered a broken arm. They shared the meal together.

Heather bought pizza for neighbors after doing a project with them, which led to deeper discussion time!

When a previous engagement was canceled, Chris invited a neighbor and his kids over for dinner. They asked what “Church in a Gym” was all about after seeing it on Facebook!

Mike grabbed breakfast with NN, a former believer who is now far from God.

Chris and his family shared cake and ice cream with their neighbors.